HISTORY OF THE CITY

Introduction

University Park, a predominantly residential community of 23,000 residents, is located approximately five miles north of downtown Dallas, Texas. The city is the home of Southern Methodist University and is also known for its attractive homes, beautiful parks and numerous churches. The location of University Park in north-central Dallas provides easy access to a broad range of cultural, recreational, shopping and business activities.

A diverse range of 5,862 single family homes and 2,543 multi-family units supports a unique population base. Eighty percent of residents over 18 have college or advanced degrees with the majority being employed in management and other professional occupations. The Highland Park Independent School District (HPISD) serves the city. In state testing, HPISD students consistently rank among the highest in the state, with 98% of the graduating class typically continuing on to college.

The city government prides itself on providing prompt and personal attention to requests for services. The importance of providing quality service is emphasized to each city employee. A primary goal of the City is to provide and maintain a secure residential atmosphere. Crime rates are among the lowest in the metropolitan area. The nature of the community and the dedication of city employees foster this level of excellence and help maintain a relatively low property tax rate.

Citizen surveys indicate that people choose to live in University Park because of the school district, the quality of its public safety efforts, neighborhood character and location. The community's Master Plan builds on the city's commitment to providing responsive service and sets forth a plan to address future needs on a comprehensive basis well into the 21st century. Residents can be assured that University Park will maintain its distinguished character and high standards.

History

University Park began as a cluster of homes surrounding the fledgling Southern Methodist University, which was founded in then-rural Dallas County in 1915. The University supplied these homes with utility service until 1924, when the growing population could no longer be supported by the schools' facilities. In response, the area's homeowners first sought annexation into the Town of Highland Park, but were refused due to the high cost which would have been required to provide the necessary utility and safety services. Shortly thereafter, Dallas also refused a request for annexation on similar grounds. Determined to confront the challenges, community leaders organized to incorporate as a separate city.

According to state law, incorporation required that area residents hold an election on the issue before the new city could be officially formed and recognized. On April 12, 1924, voters approved the incorporation measure by a 5 to 1 margin. Operating under the Commission form of government, the city began the work of shaping the new government and addressing the pressing need to establish basic municipal services. To provide for the financial needs of the city, another election was held soon thereafter to authorize the issuance of municipal bonds. Passing by a near unanimous margin, the $150,000 bond issue funded the installation of a new water supply system, street paving, and the construction of a city hall and fire station. When first incorporated, the city encompassed 515 acres, 380 homes and 1,200 residents.

As a result of efforts to build and improve the city, University Park grew to a population of over 20,000 residents by 1945 and became one of the most prestigious cities in the area. In fact, the community's attractiveness and tax value had risen to such an extent that the City of Dallas now wanted to annex University Park. At the time of the election, even University Park's elected officials favored annexation. In the largest voter turnout to date, and one of the largest in city history, the annexation was rejected by a 53% to 47% margin.

In 1946, an election was held to adopt a Home Rule Charter, but the measure failed and the city continued to operate as a General Law city. In 1989, voters approved a Home Rule Charter, which officially adopted the Council-Manager form of government and expanded the three-member Board of Commissioners to a five-member City Council.

Since the 1940s, the population and area of University Park have remained relatively stable at 23,000 residents and 3.8 square miles. Dallas on three sides and the Town of Highland Park to the south, now surround the city. The city's unique character, high property values, and low tax rate have been steadily maintained.

Government

The Home Rule Charter adopted in 1989 established the Council-Manager form of government in University Park. Home Rule provides the city more discretion in addressing issues of local concern and allows the city to undertake activities not specifically denied by state or federal laws.

The City Council consists of a mayor and four council members, elected at-large and representing the interests of the city as a whole. Council members serve for two-year terms with elections in the spring of even-numbered years. The Council is responsible for setting the general policy direction and creating laws for the city based on input from citizens and in consultation with city staff members. The Council adopts the City's annual budget each fall. The Council also appoints citizen advisory committees to increase citizen input in the decision-making process.

The Mayor and Council hire a professional City Manager who is responsible for the implementation of policies set by the Council. The City Manager supervises the operation of the city government and hires department directors who are responsible for their specific areas of expertise. The City Manager serves as chief administrative officer of the city government by overseeing personnel matters, preparing the annual budget for council approval, negotiating contracts with other governments and businesses providing services to the city government, and advising the Council on issues of importance.

Citizen Participation

The University Park City Council meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at 5 p.m. in the Council Chamber. Both meetings are open to the public. The meetings include a time for "items from the floor" in which visitors may address the Council.

Meeting dates may be changed by official Council action. Meeting agendas are posted at least 72 hours before the meeting at City Hall; they are also available through the City's website at uptexas.org/Government/City-Council/Council-Meetings-Agendas. To view prior Council Meetings on the city's website, click here.

The City Council makes appointments to the City's boards and advisory committees for two-year terms, coinciding with city election years. The two statutory boards, the Board of Adjustment and the Planning and Zoning Commission, are required by state law for all cities. The Board of Adjustment is a quasi-judicial body that hears zoning and sign ordinance appeals. Decisions rendered by the Board are final. The Planning and Zoning Commission hears requests for changes to the zoning ordinance, rezoning requests, special use permits, and planned development districts.

Recommendations are forwarded to the City Council for discussion and action. Fourteen advisory committees provide opportunities for citizen input in City operations. New committees are formed by the City Council as specific needs arise. Interested residents may submit applications for appointment with the City Secretary. Below is a list of the committees.

- Capital Projects Review
- Commercial – Retail Advisory
- Employee Benefits
- Finance

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The University Park Fire Department is one of the best equipped and trained departments in Texas. The department has a staff of 36 personnel providing administrative functions, rescue response, fire suppression, emergency medical treatment, fire prevention activities, and fire code enforcement. The department responds to emergencies with one fire engine, one ladder truck, a Mobile Command Unit and a Mobile Intensive Care Unit (MICU), which has a direct communication link to local hospitals. A reserve fire engine and MICU are also maintained. Response to emergency calls is consistently quick and fire damage to the structure averages a small percentage of the total structural value. The department also has automatic assistance and mutual aid agreements with the City of Dallas and the Town of Highland Park in the event additional equipment and personnel are needed. The fire department oversees emergency management services in the event of a local disaster by maintaining Early Warning Sirens and coordinating the City's Emergency Management Plan. Check our Public Safety content on the City's website at www.uptexas.org.

POLICE SERVICES

The University Park Police Department is an accredited law enforcement agency. This means the Department has met stringent national standards set by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) in the areas affecting services to the community, training, and methods of management. This recognition has been awarded to less than 3% of all law enforcement agencies in the country, making the University Park Police Department one of the finest in the nation.

The relationship between the University Park Police Department and its citizens is superior as documented in frequent surveys. The City's elected officials believe "hometown" service is both needed and desired; therefore, the Department is very responsive to the needs of its citizens. The City has one of the lowest crime rates in the Metroplex due in part to the department's strong emphasis on neighborhood patrol. Developing situations are monitored daily and a response is developed for each problem identified. Other community services include:

DIRECT ALARM MONITORING

The University Park Police Department will monitor your residence or business alarm system. When an alarm is activated, a police unit is dispatched immediately for a quicker response. The dispatcher then makes telephone contact with the home/business owner. The monthly monitoring fee is added to the water bill. For information: (214)987-5372 or visit us online at www.uptexas.org/Government/Police/Direct-Alarm-Monitoring.

Citizens are encouraged to dial 9-1-1 to report emergencies, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The main dispatch number, (214)363-3000, should be used to report non-criminal activity. Citizens are asked to dial 3-1-1 for non-emergency requests and information. Remember, cellular calls to 9-1-1 may go to the Dallas Police Department and are not part of the 9-1-1 program.

D.A.R.E. (Drug Awareness Resistance Education)

The DARE Officer is a University Park Police Officer assigned to teach sixth graders how to say "NO" to drugs. Daily classroom instruction at McCulloch Middle School is conducted for the entire school year and each student receives a diploma during a graduation ceremony in May.

SANITATION

Moving Boxes

Once you've unpacked your belongings, we suggest that you offer the empty boxes to your carrier for reuse. If that's not possible, call us or visit the Resident Online Center on the city website to request that the boxes are ready to be removed. Before our arrival, please break down as many of the boxes as you can and place them on the parkway area in front of your home (the grassy section between the sidewalk and curb) by 7 a.m. on your scheduled trash collection day.

Refuse Collection

Residential collection occurs from the alley twice weekly. Trash should be ready for collection by 7 a.m. on scheduled pick up days.

Collection Schedule: For residents who live north of Lovers Lane, trash is collected on Tuesday and Friday. For residents who live south of Lovers Lane, trash is collected on Monday and Thursday (see included sheet for more specific information).

Trash Can Requirements: All trash cans must be placed on private property directly adjacent to the alley right-of-way or a pack-out fee will be charged. Also, trash can capacity cannot exceed the 32-gallon size. In addition, be sure you have enough cans to accommodate, without over-stuffing, normal amount of household trash. Trash can lids must be attached to a permanent structure (trash can rack, fence, garage) by metal cable, a chain or other means (see Trash Can insert). Lastly, to avoid scavenging by stray animals, make sure you wait until the morning of your scheduled pick up to place excess trash bags out for collection.

32-Gallon Container, Blue Bin & Blue Bag Recycling Program

Resident recyclables are collected once a week. Again, your collection day depends on your block location. Please refer to the "Solid Waste Collection Days" insert for details. Recycled material must be placed out for collection by 7 a.m. on your recycling collection day.

Recyclable items include: Newspapers, newspaper inserts, magazines, catalogs, junk mail, paper board, cardboard, phone books, aluminum cans, tin and steel cans, empty aerosol cans, plastic containers (marked # 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 & 7) and glass bottles and jars (all colors) and cartons (milk, juice, soup, etc.).

Although there is no need to separate recycled materials, residents should rinse all bottles, cans and jars before placing inside the bins or the blue recycling bags. Blue recycling bags can be purchased at local stores that stock other trash bag products.

For more information on the City's recycling program, click here.

Grass Clipping & Leaf Collection

City crews collect grass clippings, leaves and small pruning limbs weekly from both the alley and parkway on a scheduled route. Debris placed in the alley for pick up must not impede the flow of vehicle traffic. This type of yard waste must be placed in biodegradable 2-ply, moisture-resistant, Kraft paper yard waste bags. These bags are readily available at many local retailers. An enclosed insert illustrates an acceptable bag and details locations where bags can be purchased. Please note: grass clippings, leaves and pruning limbs placed in plastic lawn and leaf bags will not be collected.

Tree Trimmings & Pruning

Brush is collected once a week from the parkway area of your residence (the grassy area between the sidewalk and the curb) on a scheduled route. Brush should be placed out for collection by 7 a.m. on your scheduled collection day. If you place brush in the parkway area after that time or on a non-scheduled collection day, please call (214) 987-5451. Your address will be placed on a list and, if a crew finished its scheduled route early, your brush will be collected in the order that the call was received. For your scheduled collection day, please refer to the "Solid Waste Collection Days" information sheet.

Brush collection fees:

Manual pick up (two arm loads)	$ 10
Mechanical pick up (less than ½ truck load)	$ 65
Mechanical pick up (1/2 truck load)	$100
Mechanical pick up (full truck load)	$132

Bulky Items

Large items like appliances and furniture are only collected if you request them by calling 3-11 or submitting a request through the Resident Online Center. These items should be placed in the parkway area of your residence the morning of your scheduled collection. The charge for this special service is $20 for each item. Call (214) 987-5451 or submit a request through the Resident Online Center to schedule a pick up.

E Waste disposal

University Park residents can now dispose of unwanted electronics free of charge at the City's waste transfer station. The City is partnering with Universal Recycling Technologies (URT) to dispose of the items listed below in a safe and environmentally sustainable fashion. The process also ensures that all personal data contained on the disposed of materials is destroyed.

Disposal is easy and free. Residents can visit the City's waste transfer station at 2525 University Blvd. (just east of North Central Expressway) from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. All items must be placed inside a large marked container that is located inside the gated facility.
